They settled in Holtville, California, where they raised four children, sons, Gene and Gary, and daughters, Sharon and Joyce. After Bill retired in 1981, they moved back to Atoka, Oklahoma and lived there until settling in Wayne in 1998 to be close to their children. Bill spent most of his retired time doing carpentry work. He was a master craftsman and built the most beautiful clocks, toy chests and anything else you wanted him to make. He loved the Lord and served Him faithfully. “ My grandpa was a great man who lived his wife and family and worked hard his whole life. He loved his grandkids more than life itself and I know he's happy in heaven back with the love of his life and all the family who went to heaven before and after him. He's forever loved and missed
