“ I stayed with my cousin Mandy for a time, the moments that my Aunt Donna was over visiting were some of the most enlightened and comforting memories I have of her. I remember sitting on the back porch just inside mind thinking about nonsense really, my life, and how I ended up in this situation. Aunt Donna opened the door, sit down in the chair next to me and asked me how I was doing, of course I said I'm fine. Now, I can't recount the entire conversation but I think she knew, at that time, I was in need of guidance. We talked about the miracles that God blesses us with, and In hard times to rely on his word and wisdom to get us through. We talked about some of the miracles I have experienced as well as some of hers. Aunt Donna stayed out there with me until I was reassured that God is always with us and guiding all of our lives in the direction he has planned. I feel that most people would have left the conversation at, I'm fine....
