“ My Brother, my friend, my neighbor with the golf course lawn. Gary, unknowingly, started a yard war, lol. After putting in one of the most beautiful yards on the street we all had to "come up". Lifting up a standard for the people, Isaiah 62:10, is what Brother Gary did, by doing so it brought more beauty and life to us all. Life, not only to our lawns, but also to our lives. Always willing to help and share with us all his and Judy's blessings. I could ask him for anything and his hands were always open.

As my Brother walked with God he became very interested in God's word. He also began to study books about heaven, which also peaked my interest. In my reading there several common theme that run about heaven. And one of those is about how beautiful the grass is, a green we can not imagine, a beauty we cannot conceive. I know my Brother is giddy and overwhelmed with all the beauty and majesty of it all!!

1 Corinthians 2:9 However, as it is written: "What no eye has seen, what no ear has heard, and what no human mind has conceived" the things God has prepared for those who love him—

We will miss you Brother but we will meet again!

“ We are fortunate should we manage to journey this life with those who stand by us through the good and bad, up and downs, separation of time and distance, manage to communicate with regularly, and share without anger, blame, or fault. Each day we spent together was just like we were together yesterday. We never had a bad day together. The sounding of his footsteps carried a loving friendship beside me for sixty-seven years of my life. At the age of eight we knew we would always be best friends.

Dear John, can you Imagine that?

“ Gary and Judy had purchased scooters to ride and when Judy was incapacitated, Gary invited my husband to ride around town with him. My husband, having been a motorcycle rider in his youth, had great fun with Gary that day. We will miss him terribly.
