“ I'll miss you so much, my brother. I know you are totally at peace now. You have no need of anything of this sinful earth . You are free from the challenges, heartaches, sorrow...only having rewards to come. You have passed into your eternal life where your joy is much greater. If I cry too much, it is only when I miss all the good times we spent together throughout our lives, and the sad times we had when our beloved spouses passed from us. I'll see yu again on the other side. I love you, Sister Kay
