“ Randy was my daddy's best friend. He was there at every major life event growing up. From birthdays to funerals to my wedding day, Randy was there. As well as every Wednesday night playing pool when I got home from church. He used to taunt my cat by putting the mouse toy in his shirt pocket with the tail hanging out. He may not have been the most affectionate person, but knew without a doubt he loved me and he loved my dad! He truly had a servant heart and will be greatly missed!

“ I knew Randy through my brother. We knew he was a bit of a rebel but that is what made him the person he was. The last time I saw him, was at my father's funeral, he was a pallbearer. Even my dad liked him. Even though we didn't keep in touch, I always asked about him when talking with my brother. He will be missed by his friends and family.
