“ To the Mrs. West and Family,

*I was his last Command Sergeants Major of his last command before retiring. Scott is a great human being. I loved our deep philosophical chats about history and strategic issues. I will miss that. He was a balanced leader and a great family man. He spoke of you all often and consistently. If you or your family need anything please don't hesitate to ask.
Rest in peace Scott.*

“ Scott was my "battle buddy" during Operations Desert Shield and Storm. Scott was brilliant, with a sharp sense of humor. He was also very brave, meeting each challenge or danger with great personal courage.

You never forget those who go to war with you, and Scott was a loyal friend throughout the years. May he rest in Peace.

We will meet again on the high ground.

“ Scott and I became friends in passing over our later years in the Army. I always knew Scott as a devoted family man and always one to provide a listening ear, kind words and helpful advice. He was never one to back away from a challenge, always facing adversity head on. May God be with Scott and his family. Rest in Peace my friend.
