“ I have too many memories & words to share - of my sister in law Larues, mother, in this limited space.
We shared many meals, outings, stories over 30 years .
We liked much of the same decor and dust collectors for our homes.
She said " I buy what I like". As I have set about making my first home ,alone in my 63 years - it has been every step of the way over 2 years been, saying to myself, buy what I like or that moves my.
Many times I have smiled and remember what Wyvonia said.
I loved sharing photos with Wyvonia of the unique, one of a kind choices. She always approved, smiled and said " you have bought & surrounded yourself with what you like, it shows Linda".
My friend Wyvonia and I were never about newest trends - we sought treasures of unique, aged with history, holding dear reminders of what we liked and pieces that surrounded us with those we loved on earth and have lost.
I treasured having her in my life, I treasured our friendship, her insights & worthy advice that came from a life so fully lived, traveled and spoken.
Truly a women of great presence & impact of all who came into her life.
On earth and now in heaven- she will always be among a small group of women that carry, watch over and have helped me become the women I am.
I will miss my dear, dear friend Wyvonia on this earth.
But I take comfort she left me a better person, women and mother for having been my friend and she is always with me.
She was always with me through my joys and sorrows, across the miles and coming to me when I most needed, but would never ask.
I will miss you my dear friend and am forever grateful to have called you my friend.
